To whom it may concern

I am thrilled to, yet again, to attend and support this year's African Music and Cultural Festival.

It has now been nine years of celebrating and showcasing music and culture in the heart of Melbourne and so exciting to see that this year will be the first three-day program.

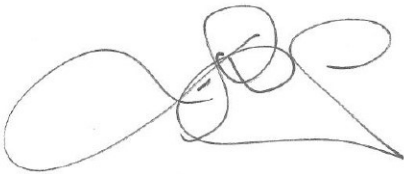

Due to its popularity, this year's event will be bigger than ever and will celebrate everything from music and food to fashion and film across an exciting extended program.

More than 35 countries and community organisations are represented, which is a huge credit to the African Music and Cultural Festival organisers and really showcases our multicultural state.

Congratulations to the dedicated team that continue to go above and beyond to produce this vibrant festival that highlights the brilliance of African music and culture.

I look forward to celebrating with you.

Yours sincerely
